Diagram of the zones

AMP Financial Services wanted to achieve a Green Star office space. This requires Green Star compliant materials and energy efficient appliances and fittings. The space, however, had noise problems: some areas were too quiet and some areas were too noisy. Also, as an insurance company, speech privacy was important. Instead of using panel and tile acoustic treatments, AMP engaged us to install a Soundmask system to good effect. Using a Soundmask zone distributor allowed the client to "zone" different spaces, customizing the level of soundmasking in each space and smoothing the overall sound quality.

The diagram above demonstrates the different zones: the blue areas represent the general office area, the green areas represent the conference areas, the grey areas represent the reception and the white areas represent the atrium and lift core.
